

Materials and Media Release

Release of Media:

The saying “a picture says a thousand words” holds true in quality improvement and advocacy efforts in early care and education. In our work, we have found that photos, videos, artwork and quotes of children bring great value when promoting better outcomes for kids. Signing the release form below allows Childcaring to use photographs of your child in our outreach and educational materials.

I, _____, hereby give my permission for Childcaring to use or exhibit the photographs that feature my child, _____, for print and electronic outreach and education materials.

I, _____, hereby release Childcaring from any liability for the use of the photographs from any and all claims.
